

WELCOME!

We would like to thank everyone who has supported our breeding program over the last couple of years. Our genetics have done well in the show ring and bred on for other breeders.

With that in mind, we have decided to offer semen for sale from our herd boars. All the boars in the stud are used on our own sows – they're not just boars used for semen sales. We are very confident these boars can help make genetic improvements in your herd.

Feel free to call us any time to discuss our boar choices.

Thank you, Broc & Luke

EN:220-1 - REG#: 660204001 - BRED BY THOMPSON BROTHERS

Face slap comes from an incredibly deep litter from an up an coming young sow that is really generating. His grandma and mother have absolute enormous feet and legs that's bred in them sows so it will pass on to the next generation. Face Slap is going to see heavy use here. Use this guy to add feature. Foot and bone with an incredible long hip and hind leg that can reach past his nut sack. Stout skulled and barrel ribbed. We think he will work on the roots stuff well.

We are as high on this one as any we've bred in a while. Absolutely the most athletic and flexible York boar out there with a skeleton that is loose and comfortable. Incredible rear leg function with big feet and strong pasterns. Its look and build is what takes to make those big ring show gilts that win at the highest level. To say this guy fires us up is an understatement

When we went to George's this spring this guy came trotting up from the back of the pen and had that WOW factor. His high head carriage and big stout legs at first glance grabs your attention. Then you study his comfort level and how correct the angles are to his skeleton. No Shocks proportions are right to make those winning barrows and gilts. What's most intriguing is his chest and blade shape and that's what sets him apart in a breed that needs help there.

Fat Toe is dammed by one of the 153 hammer sows. We kept 4 153 gilts. One is the mother of Fat Toe and another is the mother of First Glance. Between the 4 there is 9 gilts we are keeping out of their first litters. The only 153 gilt we let go last year was to lairds when they came to look at Kats Meow. She produced the grand overall at the exposition junior show and another gilt in that litter was reserve overall and NJSS in Louisville this year in her first litter for them. Now thats what we call generating and backed by sow power. Fat toe has always been a stand out since he was spotted in the slatted barn. Incredible structure with big legs and big fat toes. Don't doubt his ability to sire.
